Vandalism at LL Field won't disrupt Fourth B-B-Q

THE FLAGPOLE at Casey Field on Paso Hondo was just one of several areas which suffered at the hands of vandals on Friday. Windows were also broken, according to Little League president George Palmer. The pole has been replaced in order to fly the flag high on Fourth of July for the annual Barbecue.

Come to a party tomorrow and help celebrate your country's birthday in sun-drenched-Upper-Carmel Valley!

Mrs. George Palmer, Chairman of the Little League B-B-Q to be held July 4th at Casey Field, has put the finishing touches on Thursday's holiday event. Each item on the menu has been assigned to a team. Mrs. Bea Fleming representing the Giants is in charge of salads, Mrs. Lois Ann Bethea is in charge of corn for the Tigers, Mrs. Palmer has mothers of the Red Sox cooking beans, Mrs. Ann Egli has bread and butter for the Volunteers and Mrs. Charity Crane has the Indians making coffee.

The Snack Booth which will open at 10 for the All Star game will be manned by Mrs. Louise Neidinger and her staff.

The Cubs will sponsor the popular Cake Walk. Mothers are entering decorated cakes which will be voted on between 1:30 and 2 p.m. Team-mates of the player whose mother enters the winning cake will be taken to a theater party at the Village Theatre. Second prize will be ice cream bars for the team.

Ricky Palmer heard about a packet of Carnival games available for an event such as this, with funds to be donated to Muscular Dystrophy. He organized a group of children to assist him and will have his worthwhile project set up at the Field.

Tickets for the B-B-Q are available from any member of the Farm or Major League members or at the field. Tickets are $1.25 for children under 12 and $2.50 for adults. Serving begins at 2.

Everyone is invited to attend the Fourth of July festivities at Casey Field!

COMSAT adds to Valley economy

Local economy will be benefited by the $600,000 annual operating budget of the Cachagua COMSAT earth station, its manager, John Scroggs, told Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon.

Its complete staff of 37 is scheduled to be here this week training and helping with electronic installation. The staff includes the manager, four in administration, six factory maintenance and five electronics' maintenance personnel, plus 21 operating staff members for shifts covering 24-hour, 7-day a week operation. In addition will be contract, security personnel.

Scroggs said that visiting by the public is not encouraged now, because of danger from heavy construction equipment. But after the station is in operation, probably early November, visits by the public will be possible.

Although actually in Cachagua Valley, Scoggs said it is officially listed as the "Jamesburg earth station" because it was named in Washington, D.C. by an official who looked at the nearest name on a U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey map, which doesn't list Cachagua at all.

The 97-foot dish antenna at the Cachagua station will be used for receiving and sending more circuits for telephone, telegraph, TV and facsimile messages to and from a new large satellite over the Pacific at the equator. The antenna will also be used to track satellites.

Trail & Saddle to hold final show

Carmel Valley Trail & Saddle Club will hold its fourth and final Award Series for the Junior members and their guests on Sunday, July 7, at the club grounds on E. Garzas Rd.

The show will begin at 9:30 a.m. with sign up and inspection. The judge for the day will be Mrs. Ralph Carter. Entry fees will be $2.50 for all day for members. The guests' fees are $2.00 per event or $6.00 for the all-day show.

The climax of the day will be the presentation of the Warrington perpetual trophy to be given to the most improved rider. Points for the series will be tallied with awards given in each age group: 9 and under, 10-12, and 13-17.

Special awards will be given to the rider with the most points in judged events, the most points in timed events, and over-all high points.

Following the show, a general membership meeting will be held before the "No Host" barbeque. The snack bar will be open all day and a volley ball court installed for after the show.

Take an International gourmet trip in Carmel Valley Village

Within the small confines of Carmel Valley Village you must be able to get the most interesting of foods. In the central courtyard of the Professional Building, back of the Village House and Carmel Valley Market, the House of Pizza has just opened. Food will be served from 5 p.m. to midnight, Sunday through Thursday, and remaining open until 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

Cheese, sausage, pepperoni, Italian salami and mushroom pizzas will be featured with a special "pizzaburger" served for lunch from 11-2. Tables will be available in the courtyard as well as indoors.

Two young men, Mike Allen and David Hoskins are the owners of this new venture. Mike, who has had a garden service in the Valley, has 8 1/2 years of cooking experience back of him. David just got back from service in Vietnam.

Mike and David have taken the space adjacent to them and plan to expand eventually in order to have room for entertainment via a rinky-tink piano and a banjo.

Mike and David also have hopes of opening an ice cream parlour in the space on the other side of the courtyard, but this venture is just in the dream stage at present.

QUICHE LORRAINE

Shortly, Dru Dunn, at the Keeping Room located at the end of the Talbott Building, will begin serving a menu featuring Quiche Lorraine. Quiche is a dish of Swiss origin which in its original form is made of eggs, onions and cheese in a flaky crust...sort of a cheese pie, that is delectable for lunch, brunch or supper.

Dru is planning to serve the conventional Quiche each day, but in addition there will be a daily special such as a Hawaiian Quiche with shrimp, a Chinese version with mushrooms and water chestnuts and a spicy Mexican treat with chiles to compliment the cheese.

CLAM CHOWDER

The Carriage House which opened fairly recently in the building behind the Talbott Building and next to the Professional Building (back of the Texaco Station) has been mentioned before, but their "back East" clam chowder and lobster pie, are two other individual specialties served by the many small restaurants in the Village. The Smiths compliment the food with a fascinating collection of old, old magazines and prints.

The Hodge Podge tea room, features soups, salads, sandwiches, desserts, and indoor-outdoor eating accomodation. The tearoom is open only for lunch and is located off Village Drive on the lower level of the Giuseppe Building.

COFFEE HOUSE

The Encounter coffee house next to the Post Office serves unusual sandwiches and a multitude of exotic coffees...and had the honor of being visited by the Beatles.

The new eating places added to the old established restaurants, make the Valley truly an international gourmet headquarters.

Plaza Linda has long served a wide variety of Mexican foods. The Cottage Inn specializes in Russian and Slavik dishes, and The Little European Restaurant draws food lovers all the way from town for its excellent continental fare.

Sunday brunch has become a specialty at both Rippling River Resort and Los Laureles Lodge. Both also serve lunch and dinner. Outdoor dining is available at both, on Rippling River's brick terrace adjacent to the dining room and on the long veranda overlooking the pool at Los Laureles.

Another Valley high point of dining, also featuring luncheon by the pool is Robles del Rio Lodge, where Katherine Wood serves her famous fresh fruit salad with an exquisite dressing that is her very own specialty. Reservations for meals, however, are by reservation only, so be sure and phone before getting your appetite set.

COFFEE SHOPS

The Chatterbox, across the road from the Bank of America and the Village Kitchen, next to Swan's furniture, serve lunches, dinners and short order foods.

White Oaks, next to the In and Outdoors Shop, near the P. O. prepares breakfasts, lunches and dinners in the American tradition of the coffee shop.

Will's Fargo, on Carmel Valley Road, is a noted steak house, but Chef Clifford Washington's abalone is known for light suc-

Thunderbird Shop moves to new mid-Valley home

Carmel Valley's unique Thunderbird book store and cheese cake-and-other-delectables' specialist is moving to quarters three times its present size.

Re-opening in the Valley Hills Shopping Center, beside the entrance of Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, is scheduled this Friday.

The move from Carmel Valley Village marks seven years of growth of the Thunderbird, under the direction of Jim and Corene Smith.

Reeford Shea is completing remodeling of the newer quarters, the former Leavell's restaurant, and it was he who rebuilt the building the Thunderbird is leaving.

Besides much more space for books, particularly in the education line, the present building will have room for both indoor and outdoor dining quarters. The usual cheese cake, brownies and sandwiches will be offered, with additional plans to be announced.

New landscaping has been added around the building and two four-and-a-half foot Thunderbirds have been erected for signs, built by Gilbert Amberg.

culency and lobster is also a house specialty. Will's is open for dinner only.

Rancho del Monte also features steak for dinner, accompanied by salad and beans with an outstanding flavor. Breakfast and lunch outdoors in a magnificent poolside setting take advantage of the Valley's beautiful summer weather. Rancho del Monte is located on Country Club Drive.

Although not located as close to the Village, Carmel Valley Inn, just at Los Laureles Grade, is definitely considered an Upper Valley dining place. Their beef buffet served on Saturday nights provides a hearty meal with lots of accessory foods to accompany the main course. Breakfast is served from 8-10:30 and luncheon is served by the pool until 3 p.m.

The European fare in Carmel Valley is completed with Italian dishes concocted by chef Dino Bertilucci at Lou's Casa Carmela. Cannelone is one of the house specialties with a full menu of comparable Italian dishes to choose from.

For resident and tourist alike, there's never a dull eating moment in Carmel Valley. The only difficulty is trying to make the decision of where to go!

"Safe and sane" fireworks seem to be neither

State of California approved fireworks are legal (not in Carmel Valley) and supposedly safe, eliminating the danger of old time fireworks.

The Fire Department of the city of La Habra in Southern California decided to conduct a survey to find out what kind of accidents have been occurring, due to fireworks...legal or illegal. From their own experience they felt that claims stating all danger had been removed from fireworks were not valid.

The department received 320 replies to its questionnaire and the statistics showed that there has been an excellent job of policing the illegal fireworks sales, but the big problem is now the so-called "safe and sane" varieties.

Last year 603 fires reported from fireworks were traced to the State approved type and 103 were caused by illegal fireworks.

Injuries reported from fireworks showed 70 occurring with the safe, approved kind and 37 attributed to the illegal variety. 66% of the injuries were to persons under 15 years of age.

In cities with populations from 10-25,000, 17 structure fires were caused by the State approved fireworks with 1 traced to the others. In the same population bracket, 91 grass fires were from safe fireworks and 24 from the illegal ones.

So it would seem that the danger has not been eliminated and the problem of fire and injury on Fourth of July is still very much with us.

Be careful! Supervision is still needed when youngsters are celebrating the Fourth with fireworks.

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Congrats on fire warnings

TO THE EDITOR:

We congratulate the Outlook for publishing the repeated warnings by Chief Collins of our fire department.

Since fire is the department's business, they have every right to be concerned with the potential dangers of neglected weed and trash infested areas, particularly in residential areas. It does not take much imagination to realize the threat to dwellings from a wind driven fire.

Just look around at the trash mess right in the center of the Village--how about the residences bordering the airstrip.

Every co-operation should be given our fire department and negligent property owners should be immediately notified to clean up or else, if they haven't the regard for the rights and safety of others, they should pay for their neglect.

This paper would do us conscientious citizens a service by printing a copy of the County regulation that gives our fire chief authority to proceed in his preventative campaign. If this regulation is not strong enough something should be done to give it some "teeth".

Former resident in VISTA program

Editor's Note: The following letter is reprinted (in part) through the courtesy of Betty Antoncich, who passed it on at the writer's request. Ethel Chedester, who used to live in the Valley, decided to see what she could do to help in the areas of poverty and education. She went back to school at the University of Oklahoma as a starter. She tells of her experiences. VISTA stands for Volunteers In Service To America.

...Of the six weeks training, 18 days were spent in the field, in a "target area in Chickasha. This included living with a family...it also included jumping over dead mice, food scraps, not falling through the hole on the front porch, sharing the bath tub with a catfish caught that day, and sleeping on the living room couch if I kicked it hard enough to get it open.

The lectures at the college were long and sometimes we had them from 8 a.m. through 10 p.m. Wonderfully stimulating though to hear people speak who really knew their subjects.

I'm to be in Van Horn, Texas. 4,000 ft. altitude 90 degrees most days so far, dry barren mountains, 125 miles east of El Paso. People are mostly Mexican-American poor. I'll be working with Headstart for one thing, along with VISTA.

If there are any spare school materials, if the Valley library has any old books I could have, I'd pay the freight.

If any of the church thrift shops or individuals have clothing to spare, that would be wonderful too. (Betty Antoncich, 659-2758, will serve as a collection headquarters.)

One thing for sure...I'll never complain about my living conditions again after experiencing this.

RETRIBUTION

In these tortured times of trouble
With our laws reduced to rubble,
While a few fanatics fan the flames of treason;
Though it smells of revolution,
Like our rivers reek pollution,
It shall all be clean and safe in proper season.

Don't let renegades usurp us
In our patriotic purpose,
Fly the flag and show your colors in defiance.
Make a loyalty decision,
Swamp the riots with derision
While we demonstrate more potent self-reliance.

Give our citizens protection
From abuse of insurrection,
For there's more at fault than student exhibitions.
We should not destroy the dairy
Just because one cow's contrary,
But we can put backbone in our politicians.

Now's the time for resolution
To support The Constitution,
For our freedom's built on toil and self-denying.
That no enemy shall doubt it,
Lift your voices up and shout it,
And let's raise the flag on high and keep it flying!

Carmel Valley Catholic Church extends hands across the border to Mexicali parish

Many truckloads head to Mexico

Carmel Valley's Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church has a hands-across-the-border relationship with Santa Teresita, a parish on the edge of Mexicali. It is a pet project of their pastor Father Vincent Cowan, facilitated by his membership in LAMP, an association of California priests which sponsors it.

Father Cowan is a master at scrounging supplies for Santa Teresita and manages to get down to the Mexican border city himself at least once a year. He has had a hand in promoting many truckloads of equipment from Northern California for the church, and clothing, medicine and food for the neighborhood.

One load was driven from the Valley this spring by John Dudley and Alex Hartford in a truck loaned by John's father. Contributions from this area are often added to larger loads leaving from Gilroy or Fresno.

Guiding light of the Mexican parish is Father Ronald Burke (Padre Ronaldo), a kindly but dynamic young American priest who is on a four-year mission to Mexicali. He was there at the founding an airy church with an adjacent open-air pavilion which is used as a recreation center, and for services in summer when the heat goes up to 120.

The parish includes a used clothing co-op, a meeting room with a kitchen, office and medical dispensary. It also has a nearby orphanage for boys under its wing. Construction was done by laymen under the direction and with the muscular assistance of Father Burke. "There are some problems, doing things yourself this way," he laughed. "For instance, we forgot the electrical conduit in one room and we have had to cut into the wall to get it in."

Heart-warming enthusiasm prevails at Santa Teresita. The little church tries to help anyone in the large community during emergencies. Malnutrition is a common ailment of the children and old people. And although Mexicali is a comparatively modern city, many people in the outskirts are dependent on a small open canal for all their water. A local doctor volunteers part time services.

Father Burke's right-hand girl is Paz Varela, a San Jose, California, girl of Mexican parentage. She has signed up for two years' work in Mexicali. She works with teenagers, organizes volunteer help and generally holds down the fort while the Padre is on his rounds.

About 30 lay volunteers from the States are expected to help out this summer with the same number of trained Mexican people. They will help with religious work, teach English, help in the medical field and direct sports activities.

Another source of help comes from nuns and priests "vacationing" in Mexico. Sister Gonzaga of the Presentation Sisters of Berkeley, a high school teacher with a masters degree in music, spent Easter week at Santa Teresita and is there again this summer training American volunteers in language and culture, organizing chorus and a catechetical center.

Another visitor at the parish while we were there, was Father Henry Vetter of Southern California. He drives some 150 miles to Tijuana every week with vanloads of food, clothing and medicines for the Mexican poor.

He brought a gift to Santa Teresita of 50,000 vitamins, contributed by a U. S. drug firm. ABC "Aid for Baja California" is the non-denominational organization behind his work. He has been to the tip of the Peninsula many times, sometimes hitchhiking boat rides down the coast to administer to Catholics who rarely see a priest.

After exchanging shop talk with Father Burke and Father Cowan, he visited the orphanage to regale the little boys with a magic show and lollipops.

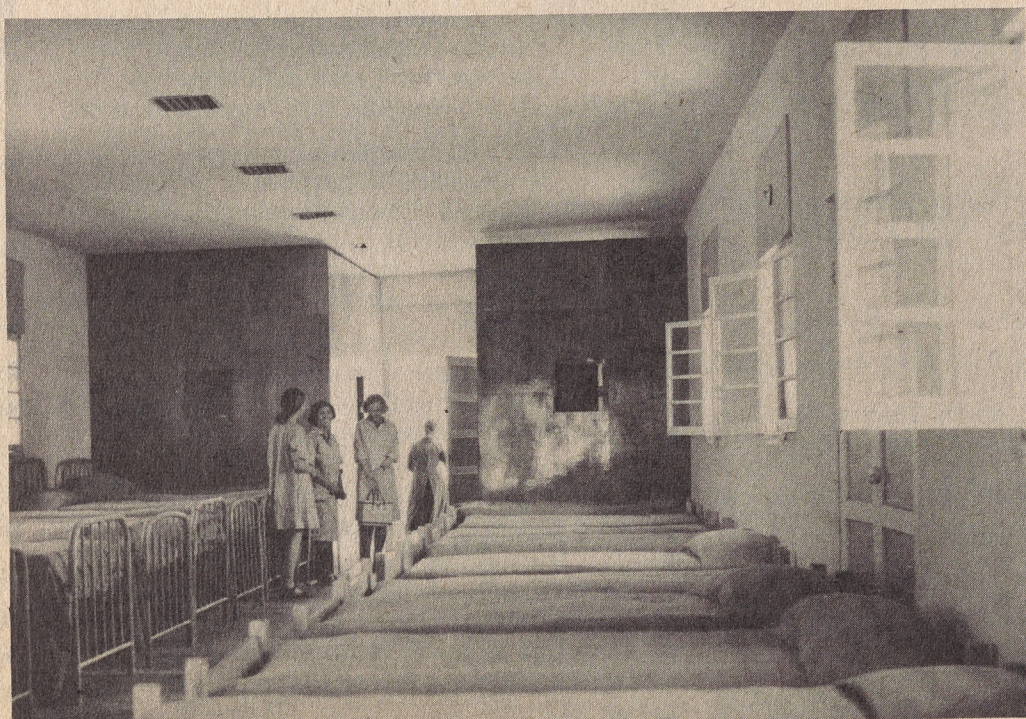

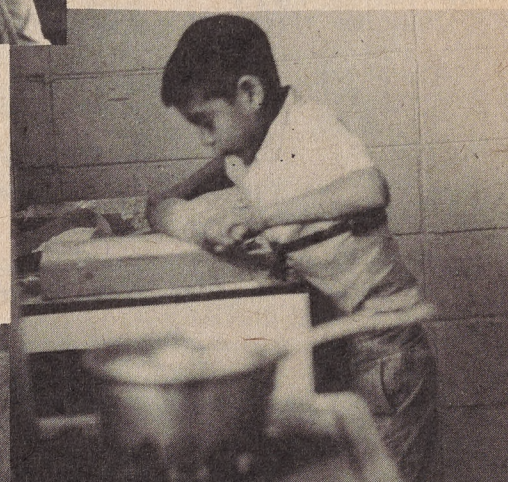

SHOWERS CAN BE FUN... — especially out of doors. Sister lathers on the suds and the boys line up for a hosing down.

Readers are invited to bring clean used clothing, canned foods, household items, and medical aids to the parish house of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church on Via Contenta, CV, (after 6 p.m.) to be ready for the next truck load to Mexicali. Father Cowan says that around 6 p.m. is the best time to catch him at home. Children's and infant's clothing is especially needed. -LSN

PAZ VARELA, right-hand girl to Padre Burke.

WASHING, IRONING AND rolling out tortillas keep hands busy at the Parroquia orphanage.

ORPHANAGE DORM. Twenty three single beds for 46 little boys!

AGUSTIN INIQUEZ, a young Mexican who helps with office and maintenance work with "Coyote," the parish pet.

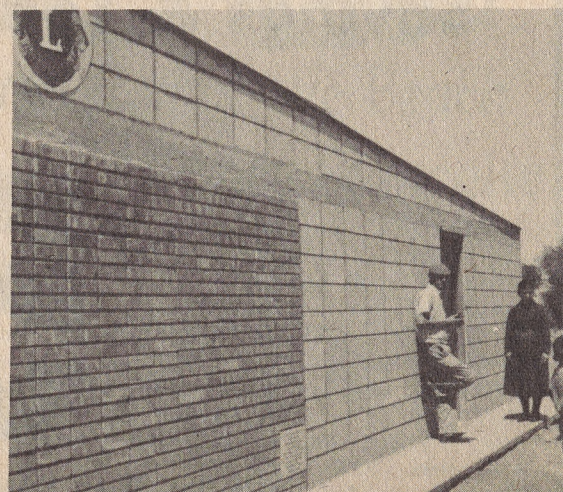

PADRES BURKE, Cowan and Vitter talk things over in front of a truckful of beds and mattresses for the orphanage. Hopefully, bunk-beds can now be built to permit each boy to have his own.

CLOTHING CO-OP where used garments are sorted and arranged on shelves. No questions are asked as to church affiliation when people come to select clothing for their families (or for recreation and medical facilities). Some bring out-grown clothing to exchange or donate.

MANUEL HERNANDEZ, caretaker of Santa Teresita, with a Sister of the Holy Eucharist who is in charge of the orphanage.

CURIOSITY GETS the best of two small girls peering into the church.

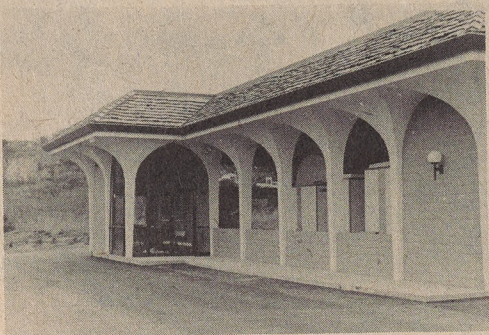

MOURNED BY THE PARISH is Jim Cardinale, a 20 year old soldier killed in Vietnam. From Danville, Cal., Jim spent his leaves working on the construction of a new dispensary or promoting for it, if he couldn't get there.

Father Burke said of him, "He was always thinking of others, got all kinds of medicines donated for us. Good humored, joyful, generous, Jim was here just a month ago. He was close to us, like a part of the team. We will call the dispensary "El Dispensario Cardinale."

CLUB CALENDAR

CV Garden Club

Members of the Carmel Valley Garden Association are quite willing to leave the spreading chestnut tree to the Village Smithie on Saturday July 13, because they have chosen the protective branches of the enormous oak tree between the library and the Grapevine as the site of their plant and flower sale.

Club president, Lynn Sims announced the hours of the sale will be between 10 and 4. Proceeds from the sale will be used toward their beautification of the Valley project. It is an excellent opportunity for residents new to the area to pick up slips of plants admired in other gardens and to purchase filler for their landscaping.

Anyone wishing to donate slips or plants may phone Mr. Sims 659-4240 and they will be gratefully called for.

Community Chapel Guild

Bridge tallies with pine trees and Monarch butterflies on the covers carried out the theme of the locale chosen for the June benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the C.V. Community Chapel Guild. Co-hostesses, Mrs. Irving Ollason and Mrs. Charles Hunt who are former Valley residents now making their homes in the Monarch Pines Mobile Park in Pacific Grove invited the Guild and guests to utilize their club house. The 32 guests were seated at tables set with white place mats, orange napkins, and centered with miniature potted plants of artificial flowers which were awarded as table prizes. Winners of the latter were Erma Soumonds, Shirley Mills, Kay Draper, Ruth Wade, Margaret Burkholder, Vera Stokes, Kathryn Walker, and Harriet Hufford.

Those attending were delighted to learn that the recipe for the delicious "Grasshopper Pie" served during the dessert hour has been submitted by Peggy for the forthcoming edition of the Valley-Fare cook book to be published in the Fall by the Guild.

Mrs. Rex Pryer will be hostess of the July party to be held on the 16th. Those planning to attend are invited to phone Mrs. Ollason 372-3568 for reservations.

CHAPEL GUILD INSTALLATION

"In our very busy lives we are prone to overlook some of the simplest yet greatest gifts of God to man. One of these is color and the joy it brings to every waking minute of our days. The theme for the Installation today is color and its personification in the rainbow," wrote Mrs. Norman Bundgard in the prologue for the installation of officers for the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild held last week at the Robles Del Rio Lodge.

Mrs. Irving Ollason served as installing officer for the ceremony in which colored ribbons led from the gavel to each of the new officers who will be assisting incoming president, Mrs. Leon Amyx.

Mrs. S.N. Trevino will serve as vice president, Mrs. Russell Stolfi, recording secretary, Miss Esther Trevino, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Kirk Gayman, treasurer.

Mrs. Elbert Wade will serve out the remaining term as board member replacing Mrs. Amyx, while Mrs. Larry Busick was elected to a two year term.

Mrs. William Wood was in charge of the luncheon with corsages and floral arrangements of white and purple daisies and everlasting flowers made by Mrs. Ollason and Mrs. Busick.

A gift of appreciation was presented to retiring president, Mrs. Busick, for her successful two years of spearheading the organization.

St. Dunstan's

The home on Scarlett Road of Mrs. Nelson Leoni was the location of the St. Dunstan's Benefit Bridge and Canasta party held last week. Mrs. Leoni's co-hostesses were Mrs. Daniel Coleman and Mrs. Philip Walker.

Gay red, white and blue Fourth of July decor was used about the rooms with tiny flags appearing on tallies, table numbers and napkins. The table prizes were red vases tied with blue ribbon holding bouquets of red, white and blue flowers topped with a miniature flag.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Elbert Wade who was high in bridge, Mrs. Otts Anker who was second high and to Mrs. Carl Hildebrand who was high for Canasta.

The next party is scheduled for July 24. Those planning to attend are invited to phone Mrs. Philip Walker, 659-2280 for reservations.

Where and What is Carmel Valley?

The difference in climate between the seacoast towns and Carmel Valley is downright incredible—but true, nonetheless.

The fog may lie heavy along the coast, but drive inland and it evaporates almost as you go. For seekers of California's far-famed sunshine and warmth, arrival at the Village can be a dream come true.

Many a tourist hears about Carmel Valley and comes looking in vain. He drives past Carmel to the south, sees the marked turn-off from Highway 1 into the Valley, sees the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and the Middle School standing at the Valley entrance—and sees nothing beyond them buy hayfields.

"There's nothing there," he says to himself, and drives on in search of literally greener fields, for Carmel Valley in summer is fast becoming what we Californians euphemistically call "golden."

The dotting of homesteads begins here and just beyond is Descanso Oaks, the first cluster of houses. Seldom do the coastal fogs reach this far—at any rate, not after mid-morning.

Geographically, what is Carmel Valley? The Carmel River begins at Indian Falls, about 17 miles above the turnoff to Princes Camp, and progresses thence to the sea. The falls are accessible only by hike or horseback. The Carmel River progresses downward, joining of course with tributaries, to the lagoon just above Carmel Bay.

Tourists laugh at our term, "River," but they haven't seen it at other times of the year.

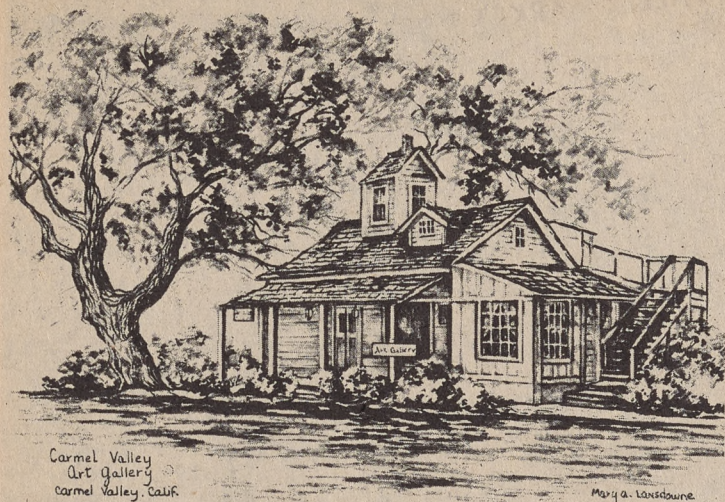

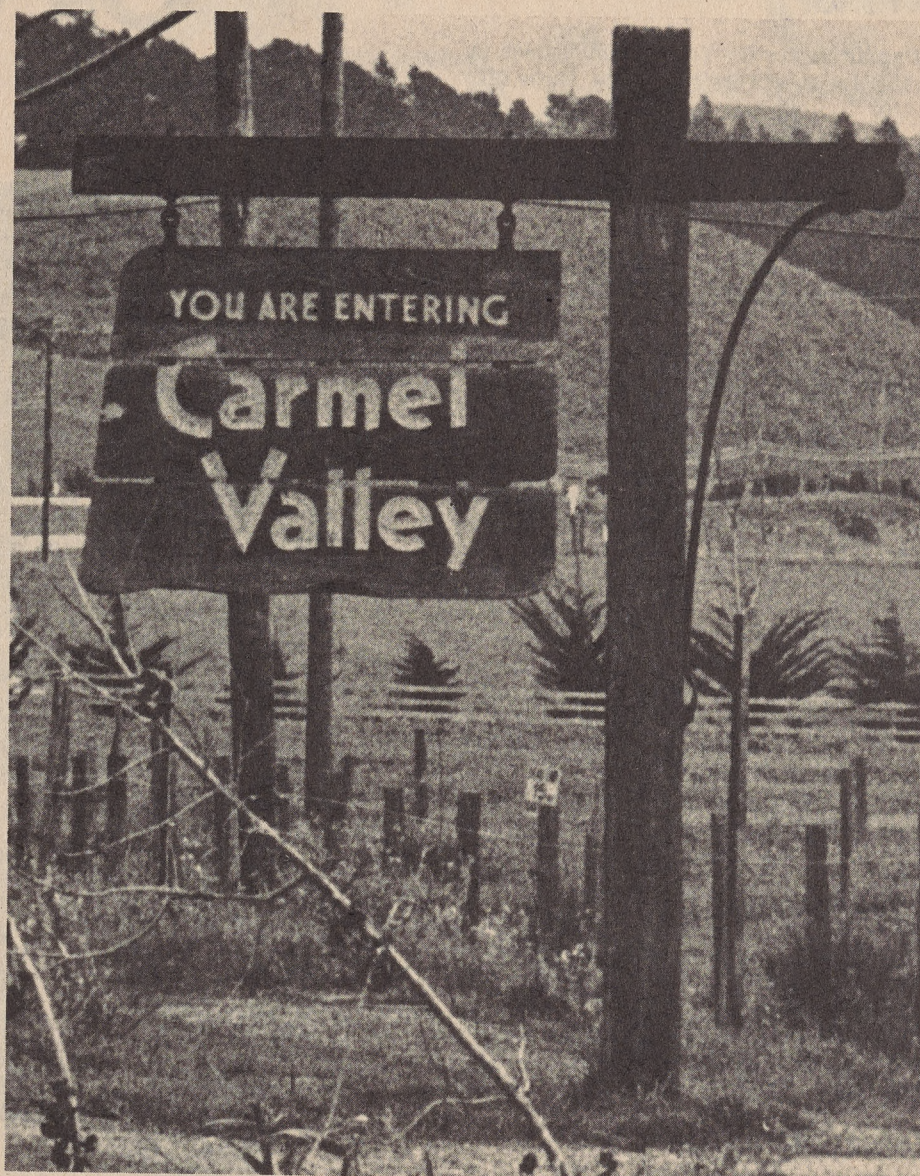

And what is there to do in Carmel Valley in summer? First of all, lie in the sun and unwind—by a poolside, perhaps, or on a private patio. When idle sunning palls—if ever—one can swim or play tennis or rent a mount, spirited or docile, and explore a trail while awakening a long-unused set of muscles. If a post-exercise sauna bath seems called for, one is available.

Dining in the Valley ranges all the way from the al fresco hamburger and coffee to the elegance of gourmet tradition complete with mood music and fine wine.

Live musical theatre and classic old movies offer after-dark diversion on weekends. A few establishments keep late enough hours for even a city-dwelling tourist to fill out his day with a sample of night life.

For those who seek to leave the bright lights behind, there are secluded spots in the Valley where night-time activity means only enormous chunks of quiet.

Active or lazy, gregarious or away-from-it-all, Carmel Valley can provide a perfect vacation for almost anyone.

Shelia Jo to play piano for White Oaks Theatre

Shelia Jo White will be returning to White Oaks Theatre for her fourth summer, but this year in a brand new capacity. Shelia, who will be remembered for her portrayal of Laurie in "Oklahoma", as well as her appearances in the White Oaks Opera presentations will this year step from the spotlight to the piano, and will serve as accompanist for the summer season.

In addition to her White Oaks duties, Miss White will also appear at the Carmel Valley Inn

First Theatre 'mellerdrammer' entertains all

BY DAVID J. WATKINS

With no darker motive than that the audience enjoy themselves, the "Troupers of the Gold Coast" succeeded handsomely in the 3,192nd performance of 19th century melodrama at California's First Theatre.

'Your Singing Barman', Charlie Beales, warms the audience up with a few top pops of 100 yrs. B. B. (Before the Beatles). Then the company launches into the intrigues of high melodrama with a play entitled "All A Mistake". After the show, you are invited to remain for the Olio - a programme of song, dance, and skits.

A glance at the play's title and at the 'melodramatis personae', which involves four ladies of identical first names and four gentlemen of sundry appearance and calling, gives a hint as to what to expect...

There once was a sea captain, by name, Obadiah Skinner, of abundant means, who lived in contented retirement. Being of advanced years, he was inclined to bestow a large portion of his earthly goods upon his greatly cherished nightly except Mondays, where she will entertain in the cocktail lounge for the "after theatre" crowd.

LEISURE TIMES

Susan Leslie shines as Lili in 'Carnival'

Studio Theatre Restaurant likes to term itself "a showcase of talent" and indeed it is just that, with its presentation of "Carnival" which opened last Friday and will alternate with a sparkling "The Boy Friend" weekends until Labor Day.

"Carnival" will surely attract tourist biz this summer but it also deserves the attention of discerning theatre-goers among Peninsula residents.

It has a bright star in Susan Leslie, its Lili, who looks and acts like Audrey Hepburn, but her lovely soprano voice is not, of course, dubbed in. Leading man, Bill Asp, has a handsome stage presence and sings and acts with an authority that makes the love scenes meaningful.

Even the chorus is star-studded, what with Mr. and Mrs. James Trivette who were acclaimed in the lead roles of "Generation" this spring. And Mrs. Trivette (then Anne Brown) will be remembered as "Little Mary Sunshine" in last summer's production.

Ed Shinbrot has a role to his liking as the ebullient owner of the tacky carney show. Jeanie Hughes is spectacular as Rosalie, the gawdy but beautiful partner of Marco the Magnificent Magician, well played and sung by Harold Lockwood, (who could employ just a shade more gusto, we thought).

Richard E. Soden, as Jacquot the sweet old codger who befriends the waif, Lili, brings real charm to the role.

He and Mr. Asp also prove themselves talented puppeteers in some delightful episodes, putting four little characters through their paces with Lili.

Too often the boys and girls of a little theatre chorus will spoil the magic of a production. But not this one. The boys, playing roustabouts and the girls, bespangled circus ladies, sing out with confidence and dance in a relaxed and appropriately haphazard style that spills fun out to the audience.

Besides the Trivettes they include Saxon Rawlings, Gary Tao, Geoff Cocks, Val Vreeland, Karen Emerson and Donna Jo Towey. Cocks also contributes a nice bit as Rosalie's veterinarian-suiter who carries his patients in his pockets.

Judy Evans designed and stitched most of the costumes "from scratch" and they add much to the over-all nostalgic atmosphere of the production, and the gay sets, by Bob Evans, Jr. do too.

"Carnival" also has some never-to-be-forgotten tunes, - "Love Makes the World Go Round", "Always, Always You" and "Cirque de Paris" are wonderful to hear again. Musical director Roger Osgood and Doug Smith play them blithely on the piano to accompany the action.

Over-all direction is by Gary G. Eldridge who also does himself proud.

Pet of the Week

"HAPPY" is a four-months old mostly poodle who got his name from his sunny disposition and his happy-go-lucky appearance. He needs a home if he is going to stay that way. Right now he is in good hands, but only temporarily, at the SPCA Shelter at 2099 David Avenue, New Monterey.

Another happy thing about this cuddly charmer is that he will never grow big enough to get in trouble chasing deer sheep or cattle. He'd much rather stay home by the fire. Or chase butterflies in the garden.

MPC journalism teacher's article to be published

An article by Rod Holmgren of Carmel, journalism instructor at Monterey Peninsula College, appears in the Spring issue of The Journalism Educator, a quarterly published by the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

Entitled "Europe's Journalism Education," the article is the result of the author's investigation, during a sabbatical leave abroad last year, of Western Europe's methods of training journalists.

Tom Sanford in special training program here

Tom Sanford, Carmel School District psychologist, is one of eight educators from throughout the county who will participate this summer in the second Counselor-in-Industry training program.

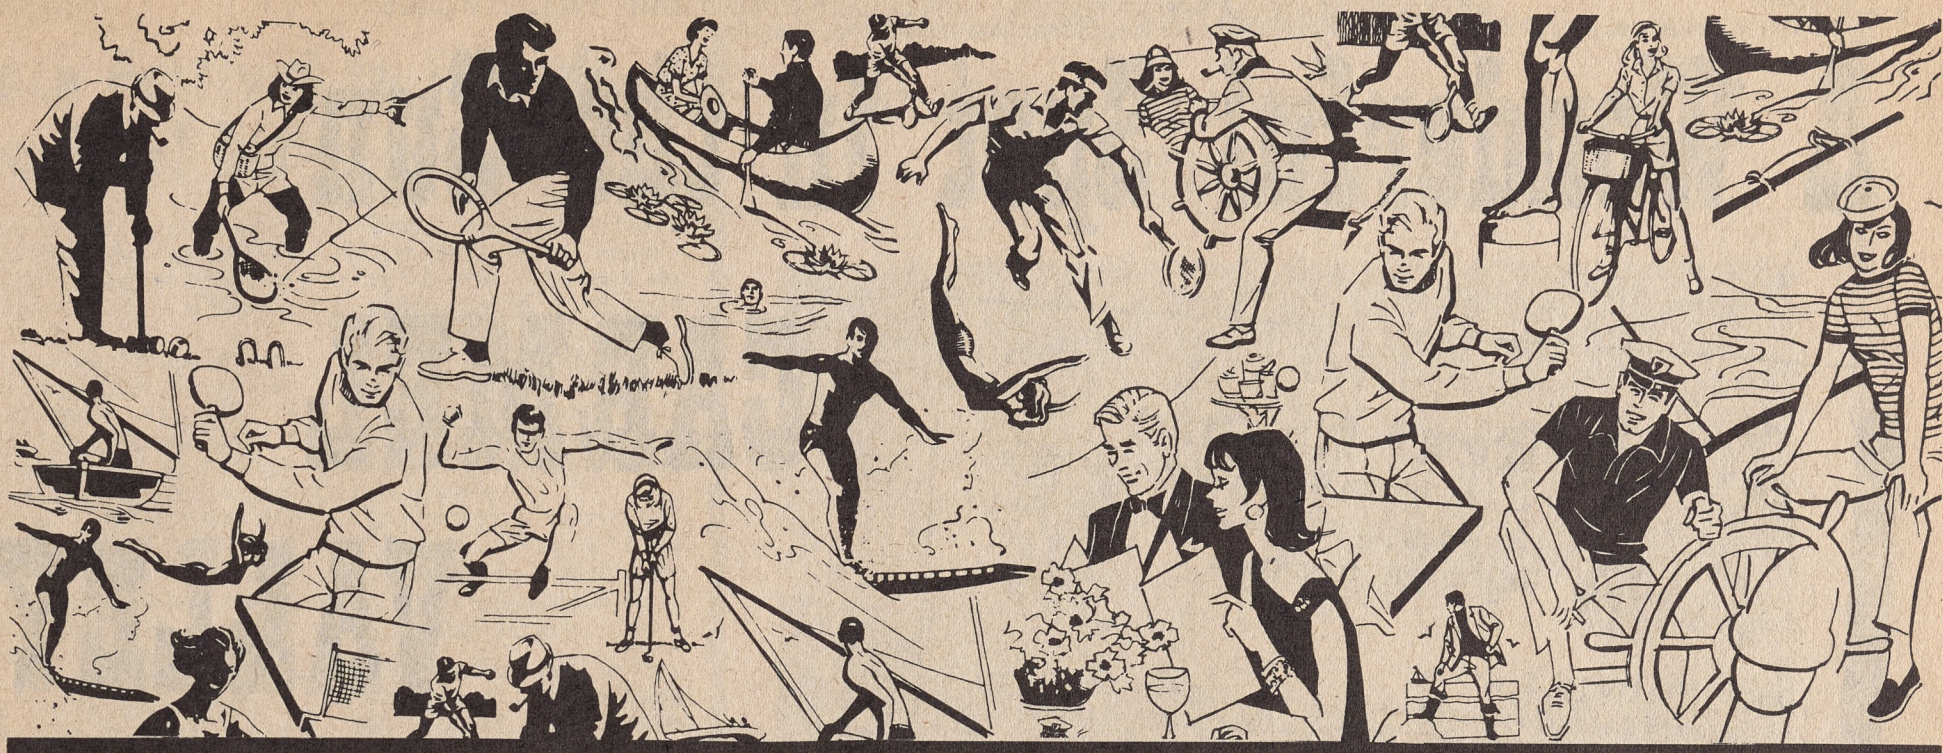

The program is jointly sponsored by the Monterey County Office of Education, Central Coast Counties Industry-Education Council and 10 participating firms. Purpose is to give first-hand information about local employment prospects for students by putting counselors "on the job" in local business.

Bach Festival to include music of his predecessors

The second major concert of the 31st annual Carmel Bach Festival will feature a program of five works, none of them by J. S. Bach.

Gaining perspective of Bach means putting him in his proper musical place, according to Sandor Salgo, Musical Director and Conductor of the Festival. Salgo has assembled a program of works by distinguished 18th Century predecessors, contemporaries and followers of the German master of music.

The program will be held on Saturday evening, July 20 at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium, Carmel, and repeated the week following, July 27 at 8:30 p.m.

Johann Ernst Altenburg's Concerto for Trumpets and Timpani will be played for Bach Festival audiences for the first time this year. Altenburg, an 18th Century German trumpet virtuoso, was acknowledged throughout Europe as master of his instrument.

Johann Sebastian's third son, Carl Philipp Emanuel Bach, a composer who brought order to sonata form, will be represented with the Concerto for Harpsichord and Piano, W. 47.

Soloists for the C.P.E. Bach work will be Margaret Fabrizio, harpsichordist, and Ralph Linsley, pianist.

Luigi Boccherini, though overshadowed by his contemporaries Haydn and Mozart, was a major creative figure in the 18th Century music and a composer of prolific output. His Concerto for Cello in B flat major, one of four concertos for that instrument by Boccherini, will be played by Joseph Schuster.

Mozart's great concert Aria "Ch'io mi scordi di te" K 505 will be sung by Dorothy Ledger with Marilyn Neeley playing the piano obligato.

For the final work on these Saturday night programs, Salgo will conduct the Festival Orchestra in Haydn's Symphony No. 97 in C Major, Op. 83, No. 1, one of twelve symphonies that Haydn wrote for his two visits to London in the last decade of the 18th century.

"The whole nineteenth century," observed the writer Karl Geiringer, "beginning with Beethoven and ending with Brahms, was able to draw rich inspiration from Haydn's last symphonies."

J. S. Bach works to be played during the 10-day Carmel Bach Festival (July 19-28) include the entire Art of the Fugue in an orchestral version, the uncut Mass in B Minor and a number of cantatas, concertos and short works.

'Whirl of fortune' to be theme of County Fair August 7-11

The "whirl of fortune" will be the theme of the 1968 Monterey County Fair, to be held August 7-11. $52,000 in cash premium awards plus blue ribbons will go to hundreds of residents of the central coast region who annually bring their best products, whether it's a glass of jelly or a championship hog, to the Monterey fair.

Premium books already have been mailed to exhibitors at last year's fair. Entry deadlines are listed in this book for the many classes of exhibits.

As in past seasons, this year's fair is coupled with a national horse show, with afternoon and evening shows

LINES FROM FROM LOIS.....

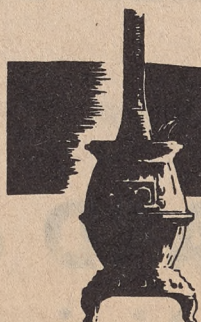

About Tourists, Visitors and the Locals ---

TOURISTS...are people in cameras, aloha shirts and/or muu-muus. They come to look at us out of a sense of duty, as a part of seeing America first, and see us primarily as quaint pages in their scrapbooks or as frames on their movie screens. They prefer neon lights, sidewalks, and street addresses. They talk about returning on future vacations, but of course, you wouldn't want to live in that kooky town! They can't find our office.

VISITORS...are non-residents who come to see us frequently because they have a continuing love affair with our village and our ocean. They actually walk on our beaches, buy things in our shops, and only the sheer impracticality of uprooting themselves from their present business elsewhere prevents them from becoming locals. They always stop and see us when they are here.

LOCALS...are people who, through the kind permission of the Gods, live in Carmel permanently. They walk on the beaches when the tourists are gone and the sun isn't. They shop when the shops aren't crowded, and they know where to find a parking place. They have lived all over the world and have chosen Carmel for their permanent way of life. They use their library cards, play instruments, paint pictures or make things, or appreciate those who do. They have all the virtues—are kind, good, sweet and pure. If your dog gets lost, you hope he is found by a local.

LIKE TO BECOME A LOCAL? We'd be happy to interview you and, if you qualify, would consider it a privilege to help you find a home or business here. Finding our office is the first test.

MISSION Near FIFTH • CARMEL

JULY IN CARMEL AN EXCITING MONTH

In Carmel, as in other communities all over the United States, July begins with a bang followed by showers of stars as rockets whiz skywards in celebration of Independence Day. Carmel has no formal observance of the Fourth. Instead, in the evening, families gather around picnic fires on the beach — the only place in town where fireworks are allowed.

Picnic hampers, however, should contain no alcoholic beverages of any kind. They are forbidden on the beach by law and Carmel policemen may arrest anyone who even possesses a bottle or can of beer. Reason for this is that some thoughtless persons have so littered the sand that the city, in the past, has had to remove cubic yards of debris daily... mostly beer cans.

Almost as soon as the clouds of smoke from the fireworks have been wafted beyond the pines, sounds of music are heard at Sunset Auditorium.

Here Conductor Sandor Salgo will be rehearsing singers and instrumentalists for the 31st annual Bach Festival.

On July 19, Carmelites, their neighbors, and visitors from all over this country and Canada will arrive at the auditorium for the opening concert of the festival which will continue until July 28.

There will be parties, too, for the musicians and the dozens of persons who work tirelessly, and mostly without pay, to keep alive the tradition of Carmel's most famous musical event.

White sails will break the blue of ocean and sky, or appear like shadows in the fog, as boats vie for first place on Carmel Bay in the summer Mercury series of races, July 7 and 14, sponsored by the Stillwater Yacht Club.

White-clad tennis players will compete for the Celebrity Tennis Tournament title at the Beach and Tennis Club at Pebble Beach July 5-7.

Art will not be forgotten, though, amid all the music and athletic events of the month. On July 13, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will have its annual studio and home tour.

Drama will be in full swing during July. Carmel littletheaters will play to capacity audiences all through the month. There will be new restaurants in which to eat this July, as well as those whose reputation for fine food is nationwide.

The shops will be filled with visitors...and Carmelites... for July is the month many hold summer sales. And besides the marked down merchandise there will be much not on sale, to tempt the taste and pocket-book.

Everywhere in Carmel, in July, will be the spirit of holiday. The renown of the town will be enhanced and those who come this summer, will return next year...with friends.

Sunday shows to begin at Forest

Another series of Sunday afternoon concerts is booked for the outdoor Forest Theater for nine weeks beginning July 7.

There is no admission charge for the 2 p. m. Sunday programs, which are sponsored by the city of Carmel and its Cultural Commission and are in charge of Cole Weston, Sunset Center director.

The Fort Ord Band will open the series July 7.

Other programs will include: July 14--"Peninsula Performing Arts" will be represented by the "Arabian Knights" from the Defense Language Institute, the Community Theatre and a Barbarshop Quartet.

July 21--Ishvani, dancer from India.

July 28-- "Afternoon of Shakespeare" by Labyrinth Theater.

Aug. 4-- "Dance Troubadours" by Angene Feves, formerly of Carmel Valley, and her ballet group.

Aug. 11--Lockheed Bagpipe Band.

Aug. 18--Lyra Duo, including Joel Andrews, harp, and Ray Fabrizio, flute.

Sept. 8--Opera Workshop, with Nancy Ness Bowman.

Sept. 15--Peninsula Chamber Music Society.

Reminder— CARMEL
BACH FESTIVAL
JULY 19—28

ANGENE FEVES, formerly with White Oaks Theatre and operator of a ballet dance studio, will perform at Carmel's Forest Theatre this summer on August 4 with her ballet group—The Dance Troubadours. She is a renowned ballet dancer and teacher now associated with the Oakland Ballet.

The Doctor says..

BY J.J. SHORT, M.D.

Choosing a doctor

People are often more careful in the choice of a hairdresser or barber than in the choice of a doctor. To paraphrase Gertrude Stein, they seem to think that "a doctor is a doctor,"—that they have all had the same training, are just about alike, and it makes little difference which one you pick. My observation is one of long standing but a recent experience serves to re-emphasize it.

Two women, retired school teachers, whom I have known for about fifty years, live together in a New York apartment. One in the last year or two has lost weight, suffered with ankle edema (dropsy) and has had gastrointestinal complaints and evident anemia. The other one wrote me for advice several months ago.

I told her that this case was evidently quite complicated and advised the services of a good diagnostician (internist) and possibly hospitalization with medical and surgical teamwork. I placed great emphasis on the thought of a complete work-up and diagnosis to get all the answers. Since the patient was well insured from several sources, the expensive procedures involved were no problem.

So what did she do? She went to a very busy practitioner just across the street, the nearest doctor she could find, a man with no special qualifications, very little equipment, and no hospital privileges! Although seeing him frequently, she was not improving. Since I was about to visit New York soon, could I bring some instruments to check her over?

I did, and also visited her physician. He had no available records of her case but announced that she had arterio-sclerotic heart disease, high blood pressure, and a systolic heart murmur. An electrocardiogram had not been done and I could not confirm any heart lesion or high blood pressure. It was obvious that the good doctor was far off the track and had failed to note or analyze several other outstanding clinical signs and symptoms.

Again I emphasized the necessity for institutional care at one of New York's fine medical centers or possibly a trip to the Mayo clinic, and told her that time was of the essence. A recent letter tells me that she has gone to their summer home in Vermont where she has heard of a good "older doctor" but who is so busy setting fractures of skiers that it is hard to see him. A younger doctor in the vicinity may be available, however, and he has a good reputation.

Again I wrote to tell her that the days of horse and buggy medical care have about ended, that many of her troubles have not been diagnosed and that she should have an institutional work-up. I question if my advice will be heeded.

My wife, who has known this patient longer than I have, suggests that she probably has cancer-phobia, and is afraid to learn the answers. She is probably hopefully looking for a miracle-worker who will restore her to health with a wave of his stethoscope. This may be the answer.

In view of the large numbers of people who are cured yearly by modern methods, such an attitude is emotional and quite irrational. This is understandable, but what can be said in behalf of doctors who are willing to practice half-baked medicine while their patients slowly fade away?

Attention appliances of Northern Calif.:

Oh, your poor appliances!

Our six gas and electric rate reductions in the last five years mean they've taken some big wage cuts.

And their future doesn't look any brighter. Appliances will be working at these lower rates again this year.

Except for bigger energy demands during winter, the only way your PG&E bill can go up is when you add some new appliances to your domestic staff. And then you're still getting a bargain.

So use our energy and save yours.

you'll be working for less again this year.

Carmel Valley Community Youth Center

The first meeting of the consolidated Board of directors of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center, Inc. was held Thursday, June 27.

An enthusiastic group, the board has many projects in mind: The snack bar is going to be moved down by the pool; plans are being made for the swim jamboree; the bulletin board is going to be brought up to date; plans for the building were discussed; the coming fund drive was also a subject of discussion.

Tom Verga offered to help in any way and said that his wife, Ceal, hoped the scrapbook would be brought up to date and continued for the interest it would offer in future years.

THE C.V.Y.O. snack-mobile is in operation and the Youth Group will maintain it and serve at any function if needed.

The board was delighted with the gift from Rudi Marzi of the coins from his pool!

The Pottery shop is aiming to make the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center a place for all to be proud of, so we need the help of the entire Village. We may be few, but we can be great. Let's honor those who worked so hard and long to get the Center started, by supporting it and improving it!

First Theatre review

nephew, George, provided that the young man marry the girl of his (Obadiah's) choosing, one Nellie. George, however, felt it incumbent upon himself to wed the girl of his choice, namely one (or rather, two) Nellie.

Hearing of his uncle's illness, George and his newlywed hasten to the captain's bridge, only to find the old man in spry condition. George, with one eye on his bride and the other on the money, resorts to subterfuge to keep the first and pocket the second. The ramifications of his intriguing involve the captain's sister, Nellie (actually no. 3), a couple of Romeos in search of their Juliets, and the captain's servant, by name — what else? — Nellie.

But the tangled skeins get unravelled, and everyone winds up in the right pair of arms — all with but a scant thirty seconds to spare before the curtain falls.

Hit of the evening was the guest appearance of N Abrahams, who displayed a comical range of facial histrionics that matched his part perfectly.

Honourable mention goes to Richard Larsen, as the rickety old Cap'n, and to John Morgan who not only takes a leading part in the play, but also provides the continual zest and good humour needed to master the ceremonies of the acts following the main show.

"All a Mistake" shows on Wednesdays and Thursdays throughout July, with a new production, "The Spectacle" on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Marauding dogs are a Valley problem

Marauding dogs present a problem which has always existed to a certain extent in Carmel Valley where dogs are permitted to run loose with no controls. However, it has now reached a point where some steps must be taken to protect all concerned, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn May, executive director of the Monterey County S.P.C.A.

"They do great damage to livestock, deer and other wildlife, as well as to pet cats, ducks and rabbits, some of which have been taken right out of their pens and off their front porches," she said.

"Ranchers have been very patient, but some have, through sheer necessity, given the order to employees to shoot any dog seen on their property whether in the act of attacking stock or not."

This is their right by law. "Other ranchers have been reluctant to resort to this, but are at the point where they will be forced to," Mrs. May warned.

The damage is done by a relatively small number of dogs compared with the entire canine population of the Valley, but Mrs. May pointed out that owners of vagrant dogs have been warned by the ranchers and have paid no attention. She declared that one individual stated the reason he moved to the Valley was so that his dog could run free and he had no intention of containing it.

OWNERS' RESPONSIBILITY

"This is of course an unfortunate attitude," she said. "No one has the right to destroy others' property in the country or in the city. An owner is responsible for his dog's actions and for whatever damage his dog may do."

She thinks that either a leash law must be established, or ranchers and others bothered will take matters into their own hands as permitted by law. "Innocent dogs may be shot," she said.

NIGHT MARAUDING

Since most of the marauding occurs at night, she suggested that one step could be to require all dogs be contained on their own premises after 6 p. m. "This would not be the complete answer but it would at least be a start."

THE LAW

"Owning an animal carries with it responsibility--responsibility to the animal and responsibility to one's neighbors," she emphasized.

The law which gives ranchers and other livestock owners the right to shoot a dog found on their property is Ag. Code 439.18 and Ag. Code 439.19. There is also a law stating that it is illegal for dogs to run deer.

New shows at local galleries

A private collection of drawings, shown for the first time in the United States, may be seen through July 10 at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Assoc., Carmel.

Nineteenth and 20th century artists are represented and some of the drawings are by illustrators of the works of Charles Dickens and Lewis Carroll.

Paintings by Girard Aiken, Carmel artist who is nationally known for his seascapes, are currently featured at the Monterey office of American Savings and Loan, 499 Alvarado St., Monterey.

HAPPY ON A HOUSEBOAT

Ann and Gene Baker with daughters, Kim and Kathy, had had such wonderful memories of their vacation afloat last summer on a houseboat that, although their reservations for a houseboat had been made for August this year, when the school vacations began they found that they just could not wait any longer, checked and found a boat available, and have just returned from a week of drifting from the Stockton Delta to the Meadows out of Walnut Creek.

Lazy days filled with sun, fun fishing, swimming, and floating around their "home" on air mattresses were shared with neighboring enthusiasts who by co-incidence happened to be friends from Shulte Road in Carmel Valley, Jean and Jack Currier.

The Curriers on vacation from their busy place down the coast at Rocky Point Restaurant were accompanied by their children, Cindy, Robin, Chris, and Nancy; Chuck Watson, Rodrigues De Leon, and joined for the weekend by Susan and George Giem, and Charles Currier and two daughters from Lafayette. The Curriers had a ski boat which was enjoyed by both parties and used to transport supplies as well.

The last night before returning to the Valley was spent by the four adults at the Lost Isles Club.

Incidentally...Ann Baker, who signs her exquisite paintings Ann Rugh, had a show for the entire month of June at the Habitat Gallery, opened a year ago in San Francisco in Joseph Magnin's.

LIONS TRANSPLANT

The Carmel Valley Lions Clubbers are lamenting that Marina's gain is the Valley's loss with the installation Tuesday evening of Valleyite John Goodloe as president of the Marina Lions Club. Normally quick to spot a worker of John's calibre, the Valley Club lost the prospective member to a Marina draft a year ago, when their membership count was only four. The club now boasts 17 members and John refers to them as the "The Mini-Mighty Club" or "The Courageous Ones!"

Small in number, a review of their year includes the purchase of a Bausch and Lomb sight-testing machine for Marina school children purchased with funds from a Donkey baseball game, a newsletter edited by former Valleyite Bob Davis, and beginning of the first Leo Club to be established in Nevada or California.

The latter with membership restricted to young men between 15 and 20 will be advised by the Lions Club and assist with community projects.

Officers installed with Goodloe by International Counselor Tony August of Carmel were Ivan Breneman, 1st vice president; Arnold Kimble, 2nd vice president; Art Clark, 3rd vice president; Lonnie Ayers, secretary; Les Thornton, treasurer; Dick Cropley, tail twister; and John Wilson, lion tamer.

The dinner meeting was held at Oberg's Restaurant (formerly the Sable Knight, owned by more former Valley residents.)

Goodloe, who has been a Valley resident for five years, makes his home on Ford Road, with his son Johnny who is a student at MPC. The native Texan has been with the Monterey Unified School District for ten years and is the principal of Marina Del Mar School.

ITALIAN LUAU

Aloha shirts and mumus, worn by lei-bedecked guests, blended with tiki torches, Ti leaves and fragrant plumeria blossoms fresh from the islands last week at Lou's Casa Carmela at the "First Original Authentic Invitational Luau" ever to be held in Upper (or for a matter of fact LOWER!) Carmel Valley. Guests were delighted that their hosts, Jeanine and Tom Bottaro had chosen the longest day of the year for an event which proved to be such fun.

The idea originated in the Aku-Aku Room of the Stardust Inn in Las Vegas recently where the Bottaros spent a holiday with Connie and Jack Daes, and culminated with the combined efforts of the Casa's chef, Dino Bertolucci with his gourmet Italian foods, and delicious Oriental touches such as Mrs. Richard Radowicz's Won-Ton, Mrs. Jack Daes's Teriyaki sticks, Mrs. Betsy Bingham's Rumaki, and Mrs. Bottaro's Pake meat balls.

Children who helped to greet and serve the guests on the patio during the cocktail hour were Annette, Christine, and Joe Bottaro. Tegan Speiser, and Kathy Bingham. Here, too, could be found Manila Joe's "Pu-Pu Shop", a thatched hut built by Tom.

Red table cloths, fresh antherium (flown as were the other tropical blossoms from Kona by Jeanine's mother, Mrs. W. E. Viljoen), a large candelabra loaned by Dru Dunn from her Keeping Room, hanging decorations all served to cast the magical spell on the Hal-ealoha Room where exotic buffet dishes surrounded a roast suckling pig.

Guests accepting the clever invitations written in Pidgin English were: Dr. and Mrs. Dale Buche, Dr. and Mrs. William Rustad, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jack Deas, the Messrs. and Mmes. Kevin Walsh, Peter Lyon, Zane Speiser, Ken Van Ha-

Operation Shoestring is well under way

"Operation Shoestring" is successfully underway, according to the Rev. H. H. Lusk, who gave an encouraging report to a reception for the board of directors of the Seaside summer program for youngsters.

Children of the "forgotten age group", 5 to 14, are arriving at the Bethel Baptist Church at an average of 350 a day and have been responding with such enthusiasm that Rev. Lusk hopes to continue the project for 11 weeks instead of the 9 originally planned for.

Operation Shoe Strings' budget is $10,000 and $8,500 has been donated so far, he said.

BACKED BY MINISTERS

The young negro minister, who attended an urban training development center in Chicago this spring under a Ford Foundation grant, developed his plans for Operation Shoestring as his study project. The Ministerial Association of the Monterey Peninsula, believing that "Any problem on the Peninsula is a community problem", has backed him enthusiastically.

The reception, held at the La Playa Hotel, was sponsored by the Bahai's of Carmel with Norbert Kammer making the introductions. Also present were Board members Rev. Don Johnson of Carmel Valley's Community Chapel and the Rev. Carleton Whitehead of the Church of Religious Science, Monterey, Mrs. Thomas Duncan of Carmel who is in charge of fund-raising and Attorney Jane Van Hook.

Other clergymen serving on the board are Rev. Elmer Roy, Rev. James Brock, Rev. Clyde Theel, Rev. Al Belton, Rev. E. Lewis McFadden, Rev. George Hunter Hall, Rev. George Ridgeway, Rev. F. R. Martin and Rev. J. W. Paige.

Also on the board are Lee Toler, Seaside Job Opportunity Center director, and Seaside Vice Mayor Stephen Ross.

"Shoestring" operates at three centers in Seaside: The Bethel Baptist Church, St. Matthias Episcopal Church and Friendship Baptist Church.

Lusk pointed out that program personnel is racially balanced. 22 of the 44 aides employed are negro college students; of the three supervisors, 2 are white, and the program employs a negro and a white secretary.

ALL RACES HELP

Volunteer help is solicited from all races. Men, women and teen-agers who can contribute time as teaching assistants, clerical workers, drivers, play ground helpers etc. may phone 373-0679 or just come when they can to Bethel Baptist Church, 890 Elm in Seaside. Everyone will be put to work, Rev. Lusk promises.

Contributions of cash are still very important. Twenty five dollars will sponsor one child for the summer (including meals) and donations of any size are, of course, welcome. Lusk mentioned that residents of Hacienda Carmel have sent in many dollars in small donations.

Homemakers are asked to gather up such odds and ends as crayons, poster paints, brushes, flour and salt for paste, liquid starch, paper bags, cookie cutters, sponges, yarn knitting needles, scissors, etc. Play equipment is needed, as are clothes for playing "dress-up"; scraps of fabric, ribbons, lace, plastic foam, buttons, costume jewelry, high heeled shoes, rubber boots, aprons, purses, hats, occupational costumes, etc. Especially desirable are old curtains and drapes for use as wedding veils, princess trains and royal robes.

An Open Letter

I wish to express my deepest regrets leaving Carmel Valley. It has been a home to me for the past 10 years. I lost my lease and could not find other quarters. After I left, another person has assumed my trade name, "Carmel Valley TV Center," but dropping the last word. I am not in partners with this other shop, but I am still conducting business in Carmel Valley from my new store in Salinas. Just phone collect 449-2711 for service.
